The Government today announced Dame Mary Ney will lead a review into the way the Department for Education monitors college finances and financial management.
In May the then Skills Minister, Anne Milton, told Association of College conference delegates that there would be an “external review to look at the systems within the DfE, so that problems with financial management are identified at the earliest possible stage.” Milton said at the time that: “I want to be able to show Treasury that every penny put into further education is spent wisely.” The announcement today comes less than a month after the National Audit Office said they were also preparing to launch a value for money review on the management of colleges’ financial sustainability, as reported by FE Week.

Dame Mary Ney, according to the Government, has “been appointed to conduct the review given her extensive experience in local government, serving as Chief Executive of the Royal Borough of Greenwich and a government appointed commissioner to Rotherham Metropolitan Borough Council.” https://feweek.co.uk/2019/08/30/meet-the-governments-college-finance-tsar-who-like-the-nao-will-review-esfa-and-fe-commissioner-monitoring/

Peers have passed an amendment to the Technical and Further Education Bill, which would extend child benefit and financial support available to higher education students to make it accessible to apprentices.
The amendment – passed this week at reporting stage – is designed to ensure that any person taking an apprenticeship can apply to qualify for child benefit or access a one-off bursary of £2,000 for care leavers.

It was moved this week by Lord Watson and Lord Hunt, opposition education spokesmen, during the House of Lords reporting stage on the bill, which still needs to go back to the House of Commons for third reading approval.

The peer insisted during the debate that if the government’s target of three million new apprenticeship starts by 2020 is to be reached “it cannot be in anyone’s interest for doors to be closed to young people keen to embark on an apprenticeship”.
He added: “In some circumstances, parents may prevent young people taking up apprenticeships because the economic consequences for the family of loss of benefit payments in various forms could be considerable.”

This comes after the Liberal Democrats’ House of Lords education spokesperson Lord Storey tabled
Welcome to Sam’s Wall, so we’ve reached September and I can’t believe how quickly the year has gone!!
The children are going back to school and there’s a new influx of students starting at universities up and down the country.
Let’s get into some news of events coming up (and a quick reminder from last week due to the importance of it).

Last week I mentioned that a friend of mine Carol Ann Whitehead who does much by way of campaigning for women’s and racial equality had been nominated for the Northern Power Women List 2020, she’s constantly holding incredible events across Manchester supporting gender and racial equality and one event I highlighted which is coming up in September helps to raise money for The Pankhurst Trust, The Pankhurst Trust Charity provides support for women and children and those who are in poverty, raising awareness on domestic violence, it also runs a museum of women’s suffrage, providing space for social engagement. I’m looking forward to attending the following event and was asked to mention it again, the more support and exposure it gets the better! Here’s a quick reminder about who Carol is and the event that’s coming up:

Carol is co-founder of the global Ada Lovelace Wikeditathon at the Pankhurst Centre in Manchester, Director at The Zebra Partnership (Campaign, Events & Publishing Specialist), Women’s Rights, Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Campaigner, 50:50 Parliament Ambassador, United Nations SDG Advocate for The People’s Hub, Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts., Guest Lecturer at The University of Manchester, Event Management Consultant for FiLiA and Director Of External Relations for The Peoples Hub UN.

The event takes place at the Chancellors Hotel Manchester, University of Manchester at 3.30pm, Friday 20th September 2019.

Championing SDG 5 (Gender Equality) and SDG 10 (Reduce Inequalities) The Zebra Partnership and The Peoples Hub hosted by Chancellors Hotel Manchester will join the international mobilisation around the 4th anniversary of the Sustainable Development Goals. This will help to amplify, connect and map SDG actions and send a strong message that people, and organisations everywhere are helping to make the SDGs a reality and that they need leaders to stand behind their commitment to the goals.

Global Wikiedition: Here’s an annual event I’m looking forward to again this year which Carol Ann Whitehead and Susan Dolan run, it sees hubs worldwide joining forces for a communal updating of Wikipedia entries on subjects related to women and diversity in science, technology, art, business and more. London, Manchester, Leeds, Bristol, Milton Keynes and Stockport in the UK to New Zealand, Germany, New Mexico and Dubai.

Carol Ann’s company, The Zebra Partnership joined forces with a variety of organisations to host a communal wiki update on ADA Lovelace Day last October 2018 to improve the coverage of women and diversity on Wikipedia. The Pankhurst Centre kindly agreed to be the Zebra Hub on 9th October 2018. Ada was a woman of STEM who was written out of history. Wikipedia is the first to admit that they have some huge gender and diversity gaps. In 2011 only 10% of wiki contributors were female and in 2018 only 17% of entries are about women. Watch the history pin and read the article from last year:
https://www.historypin.org/.../53.463164,-2.228519,5.../paging/1

Carol Ann supported the first United Nations Youth Association Wikiedition in Denmark for International Women’s Day 2019. For 2019 they have a London Hub at the ADA, National College for Digital Skills. Google Expert and The People’s Hub Founder and Ethical Director Susan Dolan and Carol Ann Whitehead FRSA is co-Founder of Wiki Women In Red and the event will be run with Global Wiki Equality Advocate Roger Bamkin and Information and knowledge expert Dr Marianne Bamkin.

The event is free however a donation to the amazing work the Pankhurst Trust does will be greatly appreciated https://www.pankhursttrust.org/ “What price would you put on equality?” Gail Heath, CEO, The Pankhurst Trust. That’s all from me! See you next week, I hope you have a fabulous and positive week ahead! Sam

This includes in areas such as sustainable energy, sustainable transport, consumption, food and protecting and regenerating spaces and habitats.

Business and Academic Partnerships: Apply for Funding (UK)

Up to £40 million of funding has been allocated to support businesses in collaborating with an academic or research organisation and a graduate on a Knowledge Transfer Partnership (KTP). The KTP scheme enables businesses in the UK to innovate and grow by linking them with an academic or research organisation and a graduate.

A KTP enables an academic or research organisation as a partner to a business to recruit a suitable graduate (an Associate) to work at the company for the duration of the KTP. The business is thus able to access new skills and the latest academic thinking to deliver a specific, strategic innovation project. KTPs can last between 12 and 36 months, depending on the project and the needs of the business.

The KTP 3-way partnership will consist of:

- A UK-based business of any size or a not-for-profit organisation
- An academic or research organisation i.e. university, college or research and technology organisation in the UK
- A suitably qualified graduate with the capability to lead a strategic business project
The KTP can be part-funded by a grant from Innovate UK with the business partner contributing to the salary of the Associate plus the cost of a supervisor who will oversee the scheme. Contributions will depend on the scale and length of the project and the size of the company i.e.

- Small and medium-sized enterprises contribute around £35,000 per year, about one-third of the project costs
- Large businesses contribute around £55,000 per year, or half of the project costs

Applications may be submitted either via a KTP Adviser who will check the feasibility of the idea and find the right partner or, where there is already a partnership with an academic or research organisation, via that organisation’s KTP office.

The deadline for applications to this round is the 2nd October 2019.

The Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs has launched a new £10 million research and development fund to encourage innovation in the UK fishing and seafood industries.

The Seafood Innovation Fund will provide grants to foster, encourage and financially support innovative technologies and methods to support more sustainable and productive fisheries and seafood production.

Funding Available to Support Schools Facing Unexpected or Imminent Failure (England)

Teaching schools, national support schools and multi-academy trusts can apply for funding through the Emergency School Improvement fund to support schools facing unexpected or imminent failure.
This can include primary schools; secondary schools; middle schools; all-through schools; alternative provision and special academies; maintained schools; and pupil referral units.

Applications can be made for short-term support while a longer-term sustainable solution is developed, for example through the support of a new academy sponsor. Applications can also be made for longer-term whole school support where no other sustainable solution can be found to address the school failure.

Schools or academy trusts seeking support through the emergency school improvement fund, should contact the relevant local authority or regional schools commissioner. If they agree that support through the emergency school improvement fund is necessary, they will agree which teaching schools, national support school or multi-academy trust should lead that support and submit an emergency funding application on their behalf.

£33.5 Million to Support Schools to Improve (England)

A new £17 million Trust Capacity Fund will be launched in September to encourage high-performing academy trusts to provide assistance to schools that are most in need of school improvement. The funding will be available until the end of the financial year.

The Fund will also be available to:

- Provide high-potential academy trusts, who have emerging capacity to improve other schools, with funding to meet challenges associated with taking on more schools in different contexts as they develop, deploy school improvement support quickly across a trust, and support collaboration between schools.
- Support smaller academy trusts that wish to merge into existing or new academy trusts, creating new clusters of schools.

In addition, the Government is setting out more details on a new package of support, worth an estimated £16.5million, to support 2,400 underperforming schools to improve their leadership. Up to £16,000 in support, will be available to schools with two consecutive ‘requires improvement’ judgements from Ofsted, to help them improve in a sustainable way.

The Department will be contacting schools throughout the 2019/20 academic year to offer this support package.

Funding to Increase the Recycle Rates for Non-Household Municipal Waste (England)

Environmental Charity WRAP has announced that grants of between £25,000 to £170,000 are available to increase recycling rate for non-household municipal business waste (NHM) which is generated by sectors such as hospitality and food service, education, health, transport, retail, wholesale and offices.

A total of £1 million capital funding is available to organisations that either collect or facilitate collection of this waste to:

- Provide new or improved recycling services/operations.
- Provide new infrastructure and better access to services targeting/benefiting Small and Medium Business Enterprises (SMEs).

Project proposals will need to demonstrate a level of innovation that goes beyond the current industry norm and offer effective communication approaches to guide and support SMEs who are signing up to the new services.

For example, project proposals could include:

- Alterations to Materials Recycling Facilities (MRFs) to provide new or increased capacity for NHM waste materials
- Alterations to existing site or new bring sites allowing NHM waste
- Dedicated micro bring sites located on the likes of business parks

Funding to Enhance the Cultural Impact of Arts Organisations (England)

Arts, cultural and creative organisations in England can apply for small-scale repayable finance from the Cultural Impact Development Fund to enhance their social impact and help them to become more resilient. The aim of this £3.7 million Fund is to enable risk-taking, ambitious organisations in the arts and cultural sector to take on small-scale repayable finance in order to achieve social outcomes and increase their capability to articulate, achieve, monitor and evaluate their intended social impact. Loans of £25,000 to £150,000 are available at repayment terms of one to five years and interest rates ranging between 5.5% and 8.5%.

The Cultural Impact Development Fund is pioneering the use of financial incentives to drive the achievement of social impact targets in its investment portfolio, making it one of the few impact investment funds with a clear trade-off of financial return for the attainment of social outcomes. The financial incentive takes the form of a reduction to the headline interest on a given loan in cases where the total loan term is 36 months or more. Managed by Nesta and funded by Access – The Foundation for Social Investment, the finance is provided by its partners Big Lottery Fund and Big Society Capital.

Unsecured loans (and revenue participation agreements, where appropriate) of between £25,000 and £150,000 with repayment term of one to five years and interest rates ranging between 5.5% and 8.5% are offered to socially-driven arts and cultural organisations operating in England – these include:

- Arts and cultural venues
- Museums, libraries and archives
- Non-venue based organisations (e.g. touring organisations, production companies, festivals, etc.)
- Sector support organisations (e.g. development agencies, workspace providers, cultural education organisations).

Applications to the fund can be made at any time. For fund-specific enquiries, please contact Trishna Nath.
